November Pastor Highlight

A Note from Dwight

Christopher Mock called, "Could you use some insulated vinyl windows and a new 200 amp electrical service?" I wasn't looking for these specific things, but one more piece drops into place. Praise the Lord!

We have been praying and working toward this move to Mexico for nearly three years, and it is all coming together now. Occasionally it comes home to me in a renewed way, inducing a minor panic. This always resolves to excitement about what God is doing and where we are going.

It still is truly awe inspiring when gifts come in, we are going! We see people and they tell us they are praying for us, we are going! Some home groups get behind us, we are going! A generous donation comes in for land, we are going! Construction supplies show up out of nowhere, we are going to Mexico!

In fact, we are going in April of 2005!

We are also heading to Mexico on Thanksgiving Day to spend a couple of weeks in Mexico, spreading the word some more, meeting some more people and securing some land.

Our parents Ko and Jan Krauss, will be traveling with us and we look forward to the extra time together. On this special trip we will be doing some Sunday-School training and distributing curriculum to 50 churches!

Please continue to pray that the right land is available at the right price and that our support will continue to increase. We are excited about what God is doing all around us. Your prayers and support are making this possible.

In Focus

This month's feature pastor is Jesús Rey Navarro Ayala. He pastors on the outskirts of Huatabampo, Sonora. "Chuy" was sent to this church a little over one year ago.

His wife Maria helps him in the ministry. She leads the children's ministry which currently has 7-8 kids. Their only daughter Edna is two years old. They are still working on the construction of their building which holds their 25+ members. (Net Works Ministries helped with construction in 2003) Last summer we were able to give them a sound system from Thad Curtis. Please help us in praying for him!

Culture Tip:

...that I learned last week in Mexico.
by Kristi Krauss

I ate well last week in Mexico to honor my husband! Pastor Alfonso was serious when he explained to me that I could not leave my plate half eaten as I intended. I had to eat well while away from my husband to honor him. Dwight had to stay home to work to provide for us, and I had to honor that by always eating everything on my plate. Pastor Alfonso knows Dwight, and was serious about me honoring him, so I ate everything on my plate!

What a great trip we had this past week! A few of us joined Lon Smith's team from Gardnerville Nevada for a week of adventure in Caborca, Sonora, Mex. Every morning we split into three teams: the first went straight to work doing construction for some churches in Caborca, the second drove out to the towns to invite and pray for the evening outreaches, and the third took care of feeding everyone. The construction team poured all sorts of floors and a ceiling. In the evenings we went to various towns and sections of the city for outreaches including music, dramas, testimonies, the Word of God, games, animal balloons, sometimes a soccer game, and an altar call! Each night was amazing, sometimes drawing a crowd of 160, and sometimes bringing neighbors into a church that hasnt seen growth in years.

Praise the Lord!!!
